MASONIC AND O. E. S. HOME

Directors Award Institution to Greensboro.

The Decision Unanimous In Favor of This City—Building Committee Appointed and Instructed to Have the Home Completed As Early As Possible—Something About the Work That a Greensboro Mason Did First To Make the Home Possible.

"The Home Goes to Greensboro," said a message received by the Telegram from Mr. L. M. Clymer yesterday afternoon. Mr. Clymer was in Salisbury to attend a meeting of the directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home for the purpose of deciding on the site. No more gratifying news could be told the Masonic and Eastern Star fraternity in the city than this, for great efforts had been put forth to secure the institution for Greensboro.

Mr. Clymer returned home last night and stated that the directors had decided unanimously in favor of Greensboro on the first ballot. The meeting was called at 3 o'clock and lasted only a few minutes. After the site had been decided on Grand Master R. N. Hackett, of Wilkesboro; Mr. L. M. Clymer, of Greensboro, and Dr. F. M. Winchester, of Charlotte, were elected as a building committee and instructed to have the building completed as early as possible. This means that the work will be commenced as soon as a deed to the property is secured and the plans are drawn.

The site for the home is all that could possibly be desired. Located less than a half mile west of Lindley Park on the macadam road to Guilford College and Terra Cotta with the street car line guaranteed to the entrance to the grounds, with a thirty five foot elevation above the macadam highway and many enhancements supplied by nature herself it is doubted if a more ideal spot could have been secured. The site contains 16 acres donated by Mr. J. Van Lindley and the donor proposes to construct a sixty foot street through the grounds. To this tract the local Masons will add nine additional acres, making the site contain 25 acres. Part of the site is bottom lands and will not only produce sufficient vegetation to supply the wants of the inmates for years to come, but by using proper methods of cultivation will no doubt bring in considerable revenue until the number of inmates reaches twenty-five or thirty. There are also bright prospects for the street car line's extension beyond the Home even before the buildings are erected. Accompanying the site goes $5,000 in cash.

Now that the site has been definitely settled upon the work will be gotten under way at the earliest possible moment and it is hoped to have the building in readiness for inmates within the next six months. The first buildings, which will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. will be erected with a view of adding additional rooms as the institution shall grow. Everything will be erected in the most up-to-date manner and every possible convenience will be provided for the inmates.

The Man Who Made It Possible.

To Mr. Ludwick M. Clymer, of this city, more than to any other man is due the credit for the decision of the Grand Lodge of Masons to establish this institution in North Carolina. From his initiation into the Grand Lodge until the present day he has worked earnestly and faithfully for this home for the care of members of the Masonic and Eastern Star fraternity in the state who have become unable to care for themselves. And when he at last saw his efforts to have the home located worked to bring it to his city. While as a member of the committee on site he encouraged in every possible way every city that put in bids for the institution, it was Clymer who originated the Greensboro Masons idea and without his efforts the members of the fraternity in this city would have doubtless allowed some other city to carry off the prize. In view of the above facts a few facts in connection with Mr. Clymer's fraternal life will be read with interest.

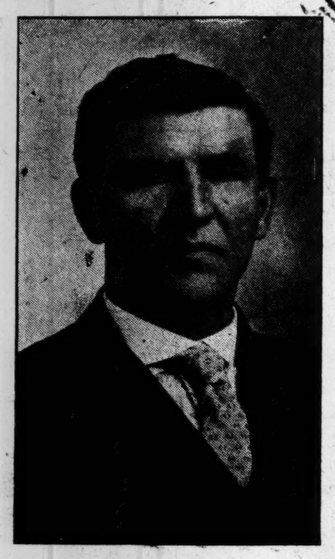
Mr. Clymer was initiated into the Masonic fraternity in Salem, Va., in 1884 and after he had had ten years in Masonic work was made a member of the Grand Lodge in 1904. During this time he moved to Greensboro and became a member of Greensboro Lodge, No. 76. In 1897 he was made a member of the Oxford Orphanage committee and since that time has done more for the orphans than any other Mason in the city by his sentimental and substantial support of the singing class. There are now in Greensboro young men that he has placed in good paying positions to learn trades and make good citizens. And he has secured homes also for a number of the young girls where they are enabled to leave their "foot prints on the sand of time."

It was largely through his energy and perseverance that the Grand Lodge of Masons and the Grand Chapter Order of Eastern Star joined hands in building the home for aged and indigent Masons and wives. In 1905 he was appointed as a committee of one to organize a local chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. His efforts were highly successful and in less than a month the chapter was established. Mr. Clymer being Worthy Patron. The Grand Chapter met in Greensboro in 1906 and Mr. Clymer was elected Grand Secretary and under his efforts, together with the efforts of the other Grand Chapter officers, the membership greatly increased during the past four years, more than fifty chapters being instituted largely through his efforts. His influence as Grand Secretary gave the Grand Chapter a tie with the Grand Lodge and assured the consolidation of the efforts of the two bodies in the establishment of the institution. At the last meeting of the Grand Lodge Mr. Clymer was elected a trustee for the home for a number of years. His faithful and untiring energy has put him foremost in his state as the "Eastern Star Man" and his sisters and brothers saw fit at the last meeting of the Grand Chapter to elect him as Grand Patron.

The local chapter was the first to subscribe for the fund for the home and the members of the chapter have been ever at the front in arousing enthusiasm among the local Masons in the institution; especially so in having the committee on site come here and inspect the site offered in this city.

Mr. Clymer has given more time to the work of establishing the Masonic and Eastern Star Home than any other Mason in the State. He first conceived the idea of establishing the institution and brought the matter before the Masons of the state. He is a man who makes a success of his undertakings, both in religious, fraternal, social or business life, and while he is open and frank in his work he has a way of winning men over toward his way of thinking. Speaking from a personal standpoint Mr. Clymer is continually doing something for someone else and his great zeal has become known throughout the entire country. Fraternal and religious publications in many states have given space to recount some of the things he has assisted in doing. Masons all over the state should feel justly proud of the work Mr. Clymer has done in arousing interest and causing the highest bodies of the order in the state to establish such an institution. Especially should the Greensboro Masons feel proud of having such a faithful and zealous worker in their midst.

In concluding it should be said that Mr. Clymer is just as faithful, even more so, to his church that to any fraternal organization.



L. M. Clymer, Who Went to Grand Lodge of Masons in January, 1904, with the welfare of his brother Masons, who had borne the heat of the day and who by chance had not reaped the means to care for themselves, in his heart.

W. A. SHARPE KILLS HIMSELF

Ill Health The Cause of Rash Act.

Found Locked In Bathroom Yesterday Morning With Throat Cut and Razor Lying on Floor—Mind Had Been Impaired Since Recent Illness—Deceased Was Sixty Years of Age—Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon At Three O'clock.

His many friends throughout the city were shocked yesterday to hear of the death of Mr. William A. Sharpe, who ended his life yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at his home, 328 Gorrell street. Ill-health is the cause of the rash act, Mr. Sharpe's mind having been impaired since a recent illness from which he had not fully recovered.

About three months ago he had a severe illness and was compelled to give up his business. The fact that he could not be working for his living each day caused the deceased to brood over what he termed a misfortune and this in connection with worrying over supposed troubles on his farm caused him to become despondent. His family tried to cheer him up and at times he would brighten up and only this week was out looking over his farm, south of the city.

He went upstairs to the bath room yesterday morning shortly before 11 o'clock and was not missed for perhaps twenty minutes. His wife in passing found the bath room door locked and fearing that he had become ill summoned a young man who was rooming at the residence and the door was burst open. Mr. Sharpe was lying in the bath tub, dressed only in his night clothes with his throat cut. He was barely breathing and expired in a few moments after the door was opened. The razor with which the horrible deed had been committed had been taken from the room of a roomer and the case was lying on the floor. Medical aid was hurriedly summoned, but life was extinct before the physician arrived.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two sons, Mr. Lacy Sharpe, of this city, and Mr. Frank Sharpe, of Albemarle, N. C. Also two brothers, Messrs. Jule and John Sharpe, who live south of the city. An only daughter died several years ago.

Mr. Sharpe was about 60 years of age. He was born in Alamance county in 1850 and moved to Greensboro some fifteen years ago. For eight years he had charge of the transferring of the mail between the station and the postoffice and later was connected with the local office of the Standard Oil Company. He was forced to give up this business when his health failed last summer. He was an honest upright citizen and was well known all over the city and besides had numerous friends throughout the entire county. He was a hard working man and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

The deceased for years had been a ruling elder in Alamance Presbyterian church and the funeral will be held from that church tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock, the services to be conducted by Rev. J. A. Wilson, pastor of the deceased. The pall-bearers will be selected from the elders of the church. The interment will follow in the family plot in Alamance cemetery.

Joyner-Dixon.

Rev. James Joyner and Miss Eva Dixon, of Glen Alpine, Burke county, were united in marriage at eleven o'clock yesterday morning at the residence of the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Andrew Joyner. They left on a northbound train last night for a bridal trip and on a visit to the bride's parents at Dunstable, Mass.

HOLTON WIGGLES AROUND ISSUE

Fails to Answer Mr. Sherrill's Challenge.

Attempts to Get Around Declining the Challenge For a Joint Debate by Asking That Mr. Kitchin and Mr. Justice Debate—Evident That He Is Afraid He Cannot "Come Back."—Mr. Justice Says Mr. Holton's Literary Style Is Improving.

In his reply to the challenge sent him by Chairman Sherrill for a joint discussion with ex-Speaker E. J. Justice District Attorney A. E. Holton uses one and a half sheets of typewritten matter in a desperate effort to wiggle around a straight declination of the challenge by suggesting that as Gov. Kitchin and Mr. Justice are not agreed on certain issues they have a joint discussion. It is evident from the letter that Mr. Holton hasn't the remotest idea of meeting Mr. Justice in joint debate for while the question was squarely put by Chairman Sherrill Mr. Holton answered it only by implication.

And even though there is a probability of his accepting to enter a joint debate with Mr. Justice he is anxious to hear him debate with some other personage, the presumption being that he wants to be on hand and see how the ex-speaker handles himself along argumentative lines.

Mr. Justice was seen by a reporter and asked what he thought of Mr. Holton's reply to Mr. Sherrill's invitation for a joint debate. He said:

"It did not reply to the invitation.

"I was glad to be shown a copy of it, however, for it shows improvement in Mr. Holton's literary style that will be gratifying to his friends. It is as good as the style of my accomplished friend Judge Bynum, and I regard this as very high praise."

While, as stated above, Mr. Holton only implies as to what he is driving at the answer is given in full below:

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 7, 1910.

Mr. E. G. Sherrill, Chairman Dem. Ex. Committee of Guilford County, Greensboro, N. C.

My Dear Sir:

Yours of the 5th inst. to Mr. Morehead, requesting a joint discussion of the trust and tariff question between Mr. E. J. Justice and myself, has been referred to me for reply.

As your reference to the trusts directly involves the question whether the Democratic party has violated its platform pledges of two years ago in that respect and as Gov. Kitchin in his speech on the 5th of September at Spray, published in Webster's Weekly, asserted that the enactment of Sub-section F as a substitute for Sub-section A, was a full compliance with their platform pledge, while Mr. Justice in his speech at Madison on the 17th of September, as published in the News and Observer of the 18th, took issue with the Governor and said that "effective anti-trust legislation was defeated" in the legislature of 1909, would it not be more appropriate for you to challenge Governor Kitchin for joint discussion with Mr. Justice, inasmuch as Mr. Justice and myself fully agree that the Democrats have violated their solemn pledge in that respect?

There are other vital issues upon which these gentlemen disagree, for instance, upon the lumber schedule in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, for which both of your Senators and all of your Democratic representatives, except the Governor's brother, voted in violation of their platform pledge.

There is another important position taken by the Governor last Monday at Graham, as reported in the Greensboro News of October 5th, wherein it is stated that the Governor said "the only hope for the textile industry of the United States was to get on the same wage-basis as the foreigner." While this is true under the Democratic policy of free trade, I take it that Mr. Justice will join issue with the Governor on this point also. So don't you really think there is a wide field for discussion between these Democratic gentlemen which should be settled before they offer to engage in joint discussion with Republicans?

Yours truly,
A. E. HOLTON.

LONG RIDE FOR RECEIVERSHIP

To Forestall Proceedings For Judgments.

Attorney Rides All Night to Have Raleigh Playhouse Declared Bankrupt to Head Off Proceedings In Justice's Court—Young Man Breaks Into Number of Residences—Bank Chartered Yesterday—Judges For Interim Term.

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—The Grand Theatre here went into the hands of Francis Cox, as receiver, this morning under an order of Judge Chas. M. Cooke, signed at 7:30 a. m. after Joseph B. Cheshire, Jr., had traveled all night to Louisburg in an automobile to get the order before proceedings for judgments by creditors could come up in local magistrate's courts at 8 o'clock this morning. The Hunter-Drewry Co. is the creditor asking for the receiver and the indebtedness is said to be around $4,500. Jno. C. Drewry has been president of the corporation since its organization one year ago but has resigned in the pending contest. The Grand has been a moving picture and light vaudeville playhouse all along but recently signed for Klaws & Erlanger "Theatrical Trust" bookings when the Academy of Music went on the independent list under the Schloss management.

In the police court this morning a young man giving his name as Ernest B. Muth, was bound over to the superior court on the charge of sneaking into the residences of E. C. Robertson and Harris Fetner, on Polk street and stealing jewelry and other valuables aggregating more than $100. His bond was fixed at $200 which he has not been able to give. He is 18 years old and has been here several days soliciting subscriptions to Collier's Weekly with attractive premiums. The theft was perpetuated yesterday forenoon while members of the two families were all out. He was located by the police in the act of taking a train last evening at the union station, the valuables being found in his suit case. He admitted the charges against him.

The Bank of Wagram, Scotland county, received a charter today with $10,000 capital, for commercial and savings business, W. G. Buie being one of the principal incorporators. The Grimes Drug Co., Hickory, is another charter just granted. This has $25,000 capital, by W. X. Reid and others.

No announcement is yet made by Chairman A. H. Eller as to what course will be pursued in the matter of whether the names of Associate Justice James S. Manning of the Supreme Court and of Judge George Pell, of the eleventh district, should be put on the ticket for the November election to be voted on for continuing in office from the election to January when the judges elected, Allen and Lane, with other state officers elected qualify. It was explained last night that there was a possibility that some one, possibly a Republican, might have himself voted for by ever so few voters for one of these particular interim terms or periods and successfully demand the office. It was pointed out, too, by speakers that there was a possibility that to put the additional names of Manning and Pell on the ticket might bring about confusion and cause the throwing out of large numbers of votes that might lose even the long term judgeships to the Democratic ticket. It was after this intimation by ex-Governor Aycock that it was decided on motion of Hon. Francis Winston to leave the whole matter with Chairman Eller, and his immediate advisors. Mr. Winston took occasion to intimate that he thought any attention to this matter was unnecessary as he did not believe that if it could be done there were Republicans, even, who would undertake to "burglarize" the judiciary in this manner. It would be too great a boom-a-rang.

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. ASK ROOSEVELT FOR EXPLANATION

New York Herald.

Republicans of the Western States, where the insurgents are in the ascendency, have been bombarding Sagamore Hill with telegrams and letters for the last few days demanding an explanation from Theodore Roosevelt of the plank in the Saratoga platfrom indorsing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. His supporters in Iowa, Kansas and Wisconsin are said to be much wrought up over Mr. Roosevelt's attitude of indosring "standpatism" in the East, while at the same time he is preaching the doctrine of "new nationalism" to Republicans west of the Mississippi River.

Senator Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa, came to New York yesterday to confer with Mr. Roosevelt. He spent two hours with the contributing editor at the Outlook office, and later dined with him at the Union League Club. Senator Cummins had nothing to say when he came out of Mr. Roosevelt's office, and the African hunter was in anything but a cheerful mood when questioned by the reporters.

"Colonel Roosevelt and I usually discuss matters in which we are most interested," was the Senator's only comment.

Some one suggested to Mr. Roosevelt that he had given practically his entire afternoon to the Iowa Senator.

"Yes, it was quite a long session," he retorted, "and there is to be more. We are to dine at the Union League tonight."

FLAG OF JOHN A. DIX RAISED IN THE UNION LEAGUE CLUB

Famous Citadel of Republicanism is Captured by Men Who Are Determined to Oppose Rooseveltism and the Rule and Ruin Policy.

New York, Oct. 7.—Revolt against Roosevelt rule has entered the Union League Club, and in that citadel of Republicanism has been raised the standard of John A. Dix, Democratic nominee for Governor.

Members of the famous organization, whose loyalty to their party has been almost a creed, will vote for the first time in their lives agaist a nominee of the Republican party as a rebuke to the influence which fastened upon the convention at Saratoga the nomination of Henry L. Stimson. Although Mr. Stimson is a member of the club, it is openly declared that within the members of the Union League his name will be often scratched on election day or entirely ignored.

Groups of men who have been identified for decades with ideals of Lincoln and of Grant sat in the house of the league, at Fifth avenue and Thirty-ninth street, last night and openly denounced the attempt to impress dictatorship on the State. In a private room, where he had made his way, observed only by few, the lion hunter was in conference with several of his allies. He had dined there, and although his presence was known to several men who had been his friends ever since he had been in political life, they did not greet him and withdrew from the building.

One of the anomalies of the situation is that the preseident of the club, George R. Sheldon, who also is treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and for thirty years has been a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt, finds himself at the head of an organization in which the majority of the members is likely to vote for a Democrat.

It was not so many years ago that any man who was even suspected of leanings toward the opponents of the Grand Old Party would have been in danger of having his name erased from the roster.

Those who were suspected of having cast a ballot for Grover Cleveland for President could not have escaped criticism.

How high the feeling is against the candidacy of Mr. Stimson and more especially the manner in which it was made possible, was learned from many sources. Many members of the club made no effort to disguise their intention to vote the Democratic ticket straight or, for the purpose of preserving the semblance of party regularity, to cast their ballots for Mr. Dix and then vote for the remaining officers on the Republican ticket.

It is predicted that this latter kind of ticket will be the one most popular with the Union League next month. Several of the opponents of the Roosevelt regime in the organization declared last night that they were only working against the candidacy of Mr. Stimson and that they believed and hoped as a rebuke to the one man power that the Republican nominee for the Gubernatorial chair would be defeated by 40,000 to 50,000 votes, while his associates might be elected.

Most of the members of the Union League are actively in the field against the policy which attacks the Supreme Court of the United States, ignores the Constitution and proclaims the new nationalism.

DAY 762 PHONES NIGHT 1442

A VERY NICE PROFESSOR

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

When Professor Watson took the stage at Ellsworth to ride over to Diamondville the innkeeper liked his looks and talk. He hadn't been in the village a day when we all liked his looks and talk. He was a little, roly poly man of fifty and gave out that he was a professor of metaphysics in a New England college. His age was about fifty, and he carried a smile on his face that would have pulled a crocus out of the ground a month ahead of time.

In Diamondville lived the Widow Steadman. She was forty years old and well off. She was being courted by the town constable, who was an old bachelor. It was said they were engaged, but the arrival of the very nice professor wrought a change. In a week he had made her acquaintance and was calling on her. In a fortnight the nose of the town constable was out of joint. The professor appeared to be in the best of health, but he claimed that metaphysics had broken him down and that he had come to the village for rest.

The constable was called stupid as an officer—good hearted, but stupid. We hadn't sized him up correctly as to the stupid part. As soon as he discovered that he was being thrown down he began to study the professor. He wrote to half a dozen colleges and was told that they had never heard of the man. By accident he got hold of a paper that put him on the right trail. He went up to the city and had a talk with the police.

One June day the stage from the railroad rolled in, and its cargo consisted of eleven women. They might have been said to be of all ages, sexes and colors. As the vehicle halted at the inn Professor Watson sat on the veranda. He was put under arrest by a detective and the constable as he sat, but he got on his feet and raised his hat eleven different times to the eleven females. Some cried out at sight of him, some smiled, and some shed tears. After replacing his hat the professor shook hands with the eleven, beginning at the head of the line and saying:

"My dear, your name is Hannah, if I remember, and, though your call is unexpected, you are nevertheless welcome."

Then he took up the case of Jane, Betsy, Mary, and so on. Every woman there was his wife, and a wife he had abandoned, and yet he carried that smile and his nerve right through it. He was taken to jail, and the jailer said he was one of the nicest men he ever met. The officers had a case against him bigger'n a house. He had practiced bigamy for twenty years. He had married girls, spinsters, widows and old women. One of the victims was sixty-five years old. He had got money from some of them, but it didn't seem as if that was his motive. As he explained it:

"Why, I just fell in love, and she fell in love, and we were married. Really, I didn't know I had married so many."

And when the women were asked to explain they answered:

"Why, he's such a very, very nice man that we couldn't help it. He's just too sweet for anything."

And, would you believe it, the Widow Steadman, who would have made the twelfth, was the first one to send him a bouquet and her sympathies after he had been locked up!

The professor hadn't gone far afield. He had done all his marrying within a radius of 200 miles. He had made a nice, kind husband while it lasted. He had painted kitchen floors, washed dishes and whitewashed cellars. Yes, the officers thought they had him dead to rights, but they soon learned to the contrary. Only one woman out of the eleven was willing to swear against the man. The county had the whole gang on its hands to lodge and board.

The wife who was willing to do it was an old maid and so bony and homely as to excite general remark. For a time she was fierce to send the little man to a place where the dogs couldn't bite him. None of the ten others would speak to her. She was sent for by the professor. When she had arrived at the jail, determined that his cajolery should not move her, he held out his arms to her and said:

"Birdie, you can't find it in your heart to do it. You are too noble and generous. If I hadn't seen the nobility of your character in your face I should never have trusted my happiness in your keeping."

She believed him and fell on his shoulder and wept. When the trial was at last called not one of the eleven was complainant. When put on the stand as witnesses they were no good. They perjured themselves, and they wriggled and twisted and made all sorts of excuses for the man, and the jury had to strain a point to convict him. He got a sentence of three years, and before being taken to prison he had interviews with the eleven in succession, and to each one he said:

"Never mind, darling. Three years will soon pass away, and then we will be with each other again, to part nevermore."

And the constable didn't marry the Widow Steadman. She said he wasn't even a little bit nice and that it was none of his business how many wives the very, very nice Professor Watson had.

Tom Watson didn't "come back" in Georgia. He just fell back. Several points, too.

The International Prison Congress favors listing tramps. Fine idea. And if one should be found not displaying his name and number conspicuously, it should go hard with him!

Almost every one had forgotten the comet, but the Hon. Jake Newell, of Charlotte, harks back to the heavenly visitor of the spring to explain the unusual heat of the political campaign.

For one reason or another these are not "flush" times with most of the people in Greensboro. But if one can possibly raise the money, he could hardly do better than to aid in raising the $2,500 needed by the library. This is a very useful institution and distinctly a credit to the city. Moreover, it is very economically and wisely administered. Money put into it will be bread cast upon the waters for it will come back in the form of increased culture of our people.

Opinion is divided as to the legitimacy of the subject treated in Tom Dixon's latest play, "The Sins of the Father." There is quite a widespread feeling that the disgusting sin that Mr. Dixon is campaigning against is being less and less practiced anyway and that there is no use in calling such a disagreeable topic up before the minds of people. Nevertheless if the play has any effect at all, it is to make more hideous and revolting the practice mentioned and so the presentation of such a play may do good. But anyway you look at it, Mr. Dixon has taken, in his new play, a sufficiently nasty topic.

Enlightened public sentiment is now demanding that inebriates be treated as diseased persons and sent to hospitals instead of as criminals and being sent to jail. It would be more satisfactory to prevent their becoming inebriates or to diminish the number as far as practicable.—Danville Register.

Prevention is indeed better than cure. The ravages of liquor are we believe substantially lessened by prohibition. But even under prohibition locally it is possible to procure it by express from places where prohibition does not prevail. And pending the arrival of the time of complete prohibition, men everywhere will do well to fear "old booze" like they do a plague and not be persuaded by flaming advertisements in the papers to fool with the dangerous stuff.

Thomas J. Pence, the Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, has the following in yesterday's paper:

An executive conference of the executive committee of the National Independence League, a negro organization, held an all day session here today, and issued an address to the colored voters of the United States, urging them to vote independently in politics. These same negroes handed out the same kind of advice during the Bryan-Taft campaign two years ago, and then all hands voted the Republican ticket on election day.

Those negroes ought to vote like they promise or they ought not to promise. But we doubt if the Democracy generally sets any store by the negro vote. It can well afford to let the Republicans make the most of that. It has never been supported by the negroes and having gotten along thus far without their aid we should think that there is no good reason why their support should be sought now.

No stock in the country has fallen in the last few days like Roosevelt stock. True, thousands gathered at Knoxville yesterday to see him, but that means that he is a curiosity and not that he has strengthened his hold on his party. He got a great deal of glory out of his capture of the New York convention, but it was but the glory of a day. The after results constitute a regular solar-plexus blow for the Strenuous One. Says the Baltimore Sun:

The Colonel has a difficult role to play. He is a great broncho-buster, but can he ride two bronchos at one time? Would he not have been a wiser general if he had kept out of the New York campaign? This fight shows his hand too plainly. The Insurgent mood in the West is too serious for mere personal politics; it demands action. It is willing to lose a battle in order to win a campaign. It dearly loves a martyr to his principles or to a cause. if those principles or that cause gee with its idea of the new order, and it will cheerfully canonize such a martyr over night. The West is demanding action, performance, deeds that square with words. It may still be fooled, to be sure by boy orators and pompadoured table-pounders and government "potato-warehouses," but it doesn't like a quitter or a man who blows hot and blows cold on different sides of the river or who downs the Payne-Aldrich tariff in Indiana and praises it in New York. It is beginning to contrast Bryan's bolt "for principle" of the Democratic ticket in Nebraska and his friend Dahlman, and to point the finger of scorn at the Roosevelt surrender in New York.

The West is beginning to suspect the Colonel. And very justly so, for however sincere he may be as a preacher, he is just as practical as a politician, and it is becoming more evident every day that the Contributing Editor's mission in the West was to win the confidence of the Western Insurgents so that he might deliver them to the Grand Old Party in the East. Roosevelt's victory in the New York convention will be worth many thousand Democratic votes at the Western polls in November.

MANUEL IS SMALL

Deposed King of Portugal Not Liked by People, But Mother's Pet.

New York World.

Manuel has been King for two years and seven months and it is doubtful if he has known a single moment of peace, even when he has been away from his own country searching for a sweetheart to be his queen. In England his look of terror told that he did not feel safe even there. In Paris it was well known that he was in grave danger, for the headquarters of the anarchists, the most deadly to his life, are maintained there.

By the common people Manuel is despised. He is small. He is fond of books. He has genteel notions. His people think him a mere bookworm and a prig. They compare him with his colossal father, whose jovial, simple good humor made him beloved. Manuel also compares himself with the late King, and shudders as he realizes that the great popularity of Carlos did not save him from the assassin's bullets.

Manuel had just stepped into the royal carriage on that fatal morning of February 1 with his father, mother and elder brother. The royal entourage was around them and there appeared to be all the precaution to insure safety that is usually taken with royalty. But as Manuel was laughing, for, perhaps the last time in his life, one from a group of anarchists skulking nearby sprang on the back of the carriage and in a moment King Carlos, the beloved, rolled to the floor of the vehicle dead, the Crown Prince fell dead across his father's body and Manuel himself, shielded by the brave and loyal mother, Queen Amelie, was wounded in the face and arm.

In the depth of her affection the Queen Mother has not given the boy king the chance to forget that awful moment. His grandmother, Queen Maria Pia, whose own life has been full of horrors, for she was present at the assassination of her brother, King Humbert of Italy, has no less kept the dread picture in his mind.

WHERE TO PUT THE LIGHTS A PROBLEM.

Water and Light Commission and Aldermen Discuss the Matter—Contract To Be Drawn At Once.

The Board of Aldermen were in special session last night for the purpose of instructing the city attorney and the Water & Light Commission to draw the contract with the North Carolina Public Service Company for street lights, this order having been overlooked at the former meeting. The board also conferred with Chairman Sergeant regarding the placing of the additional lights.

This problem is a knotty one and will require a great deal of careful study in order that the lights may be placed where the greatest benefits will accrue. There are now on file a long list of applications for street lights and it is quite doubtful if the additional lights will "go round." It is proposed to put in about seventy-five or a hundred of the Tungstens, three being equivalent to an arc light, and the remainder of the 175 in arcs. This, it is believed, would be a proper adjustment of the difficulty. After discussing the matter at length a committee of three, including the mayor, was appointed to confer with the Water and Light Commission as to the proper locations for the lights. Aldermen Smith and Albright were appointed on the committee.

The board granted the Southern Power Company the right of way over a corner of Green Hill cemetery, the same to be used for transmission lines.

The matter of having the Street Commission employ assistance in the nature of a sidewalk inspector was discussed, but it was pointed out that nearly all the sidewalks had been laid that would be put down this fall. No action was taken, but it is probable that a suitable person will be secured to superintend the work of paving Buchanan street as the members of the commission cannot be on hand constantly.

WIFE WANTED HIM TO TELL MASONIC SECRETS

So Says Harry Mather, Who Is Fighting Her Suit for a Separation.

New York World.

When Justice Maddox in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, yesterday ordered Harry B. Mather to pay his wife $60 counsel fee in a separation suit she has brought against him, it developed that the dulcet tone of his wife's voice while she was a "hello" girl was that which has first fascinated him. But, Mather says, shortly aftr marriage the sweet tune changed to one of discontent. He also denies her charge of cruelty.

Mather met his wife in October, 1899, when he was secretary of the Columbia Theatre, Brooklyn. She was then at a local telephone exchange. They were married in 1906 and spent their honeymoon in Washington. While at the Capitol Mather avers his wife said to him: "Now, Harry, you know there shouldn't be any secrets between husband and wife. I want you to tell me all you know about the Masons and the terrible things they do. I really can't be happy unless you do."

Mather declined to disclose the secrets and he asserts his wife tossed her head petulantly and said: "I know a Mason who will tell me." Mather says he boxed his wife's ears and left the room. After this spat the couple went to Somerville, Mass., Mather being employed in Boston. Later they went to live with his parents and one week instead of giving his wife his pay envelope immediately Mather says he first paid their board and handed over the balance. He asserts his wife flew into a rage and said:

"If I can't handle our money I know what I can do. I can go back to the New York Telephone Company any time I want to. That office is full of grass widows and women who have left their husbands."

Mather declares his wife made no attempt to carry out her threat, but annoyed him in every way possible. Once, he avers, she thre wa carving knife at him. Next, Mather declares, another man appeared on the scene. This man, he says, peddled milk and was a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Subsequently Mather's wife left him and went to New York. The case has been set for trial next month.

GEMS IN CHEESE ON LINER

Gorgonzola's Odor Awes Customs, But Woman Declares Diamonds.

New York, Oct. 7.—The customs sleuths found a new herror yesterday, when they discovered two diamond earrings concealed in a gorgonzola cheese brought into this country by Mrs. Maria Fontana, a passenger of the Sant' Anna, of the Fabre Line, Mrs. Fontana's trunk gave forth such a notable aroma that even the hardened inspector was staggered, and he asked Mrs. Fontana to lay out her own baggage. Soon she produced the cheese and began to unwrap it.

"Nothing in that, is there?" the inspector asked, laughing, except what we can all appreciate without looking at it?"

"Why, yes," she said, "there are a pair of diamond earrings in there."

The earrings were extracted, but Mrs. Fontana said she had bought them in this country and had put them in the cheese for safekeeping and not for deception. The inspector believed her.

The Whirlwind Campaign.

Despite the fact that it was raining nearly all day yesterday the workers in the whirlwind campaign to raise $2,500 for the public library met with fair success. However, owing to the wet weather some of the workers, did not enter actively into the campaign, securing permission to do their work this morning.

Those who went out were generally successful. It is not thought that there will be any trouble in raising the necessary amount. General Wharton stated last night that some of his captains had made encouraging reports, while others had not reported. The workers will make their report at a meeting to be held in the Guilford Hotel Monday night.

MR. MOREHEAD TO EX-GOV. AYCOCK

Wants To Know If Mr. Aycock Said Republican Party Would Seek To Enable Collection of the Carpet Bag Bonds.

Republican State Chairman John M. Morehead yesterday made public a letter to Ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock in which he denies that the Republican party has any idea whatever looking to the collection of the "carpet bag bonds." In it he goes out of his way to take a fling at the Raleigh News and Observer, showing that he has the true Republican dislike for that thoroughgoing Democratic newspaper. Mr. Morehead's letter follows:

"I write to ask if the newspapers are correct in accrediting to you the statement that the Republican party is "listening with favor to propositions looking to the collection of the carpet-bag bonds and that big contributions from these bondholders are being made to the Republican campaign fund in the State."

"If the newspaper version of your remarks is correct, I wish to most emphatically and unequivocally denounce the statement that the Republican party entertains any idea whatever looking towards any attempt to collect these bonds as absolutely unwarranted.

"You are of course aware that the provision of Section 6, Article I, of the Constitution of the State expressly prohibits the payment directly or indirectly of any of the bonds referred to "unless the proposition to pay the same shall have first been submitted to the people and by them ratified by the vote of a majority of all the qualified voters of the State at a regular election held for that purpose."

"In the face of this constitutional inhibition how can it be reasonably contended that any political party by legislative control or authority can bring about the payment of these constitutionally repudiated bonds?

"As to the assertion that the holders of these fraudulent bonds are lending aid and comfort to the Republican party in the shape of contributions to the party's campaign fund, it is utterly untrue.

"I cannot conceive how such an idea originated unless perchance the proposition has formerly been submitted by these bondholders to the Democrats, which would be a much more reasonable business proposition from their standpoint than an effort on their part to do business with a legislative minority.

"I am constrained to believe that the papers have misrepresented you, because from my estimate of your character as a man and an honored citizen of the State I am very loath to believe that you would be a party to such misrepresentation of facts, or that you would allow yourself to be driven by the extremities of the Democratic party in this State to resort to those methods of villification and misrepresentation so habitual to and characteristic of the organ of your party.

"In conclusion, may I appeal to your sense of fairness and honesty, both of which I believe you embody to the fullest extent, and ask that if you made the statements you substantiate them or if, as I believe, you did not make them, join me in removing this slur upon your reputation as a man of honor who would decline to resort to such methods regardless of the dangers that beset Democratic supremacy in North Carolina at this juncture."

AT STOKESDALE TODAY.

Democrats Preparing For a Big Rally—Major Stedman To Make Address.

The Stokesdale Democrats are arranging for a rousing rally at Stokesdale today and if the weather permits a large crowd of the people of the village and vicinity is expected out to hear the legislative and county candidates discuss the issues pending in the political arena.

Maj. Chas. M. Stedman, Democratic nominee for Congress from the Fifth district, will be present and will make the principal address of the occasion.

The Oak Ridge band will be on hand to make music and the committee on local arrangements is arranging for a big barbecue and brunswick stew. A number of Greensboro people will go out to hear the speaking.

There will be a meeting of the Bar Association this afternoon in the clerk's office for the purpose of fixing a calendar for the October term of civil court.

MR. W. J. MORRISON DEAD.

Aged Citizen Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon At One O'clock.

Mr. William J. Morrison died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of his son, Mr. Charles Morrison, 363 West Lee street, following an illness of one week. He was 84 years of age and had been in declining health for some time, but until a week ago was able to get around. On last Saturday he was seized with an attack of indigestion and kept in his room during the week. Yesterday morning, however, he seemed brighter than usual and was chatting and laughing until a short time before death came.

Mr. Morrison was born in Cumberland county in 1826 and lived there until about fourteen years ago when he moved to Greensboro to reside with his children, who were in business here. He served as a Confederate soldier throughout the Civil war, being in several of the more important battles.

The deceased is survived by eight children, Messrs. Robert, Charles and N. H. Morrison, Mrs. A. F. Brooks, Mrs. E. F. Pierce and Mrs. J. L. Holden, of this city; Mrs. D. M. Clark, of Dunn, and Mr. John Morrison, of South Carolina.

Mr. Morrison was a faithful member of Westminster Presbyterian church and was a kind and benevolent gentleman. While he was not actively engaged in business here he was well known and has many friends and acquaintances in the city.

The funeral will be held from the late residence, 363 West Lee street, this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. E. Hodgin, pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. R. M. Williams. The interment will be in Green Hill cemetery, the following acting as pall bearers: Messrs. T. G. McLean, M. G. Newell, E. P. Wharton, R. G. Hiatt, Geo. S. Sergeant and O. C. Wysong.

INTO COLLEGE AT FIFTY

Plucky Freshman Works and Saves to Get Education.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 7.—Ulysses Grant Houston, 50 years old, has entered Michigan University as a freshman. He has not been in a class room for 30 years, and all this time he has worked, planned and saved that he might some day enter a university and study, and in all this time he has saved the pitifully small sum of $150, half of which is available at this time, and half he will not be able to get for another six months. When he had paid his tuition he had 50 cents left and he was blue.

"But you'll feel better after you have had a good dinner; things will look less blue," he was told, and he smiled and pulled from his pocket a package of crackers and cheese.

Mr. Houston has spent many years in strange lands, and the Holy Land is more like home to him than is America. For the past 12 years he has lectured on the Holy Land and preached in small churches, acting as supply minister.

Rate Hearing Soon.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—A hearing will be held by the interstate commerce commission in St. Louis, October 15th, to inquire into the reasonableness of proposed increases in the transportation rates on vehicles over railroads in the South and Southwest. No order of suspension has been issued by the commission.

The forming of regular habits is most important and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. OPEN LETTER

To the Mass. Mutual Life Insurance Co.—

Gentlemen:—Your fifty-seventh annual statement shows that you paid a little over $232,000.00 to policy holders who died from Kidney Disease and Diabetes last year.

In a line of test cases Fulton's Compounds have shown an efficiency of 87 per cent in these cases, and if those policy-holders had been advised of this treatment and our figures maintained, you ought to have nearly $200,000 of those losses in your treasury.

But let us say that, making due allowance for our enthusiasm, the proven efficiency should be reduced 50 per cent. That would still mean that you are losing $100,000 a year due to lack of knowledge of these specifics. Is not that vast sum not worth saving annually? And even if it were not, isn't it a humane duty to carry hope into clouded homes?

An idea of the magnitude of this question and the strain it is going to put on the Life Insurance Companies unless something is done can be had from the following census deaths from Bright's Disease:

(These figures for 1910 are based on U. S. mortality reports for 1901-2-3 and 4.)

Why not serve humanity and finance together by notifying your agents to advise those of your policy-holders who have Bright's Disease and Diabetes of this treatment. They will do the rest. And by the way, we want to hear from and advise every one not getting results.

We have abundant testimony to prove that we can probably save to your treasury over $100,000 annually. And what is true of your company is true of every other life insurance company of equal business and importance.

Yours very truly,
JOHN J. FULTON CO.

P. S.—As showing you what is actually going on, will say that a policy-holder of the Prudential, living in Detroit, was very low with Bright's Disease, and the announcemnt of her death was expected daily when she was put on Fulton's Renal Compound. The loss was saved and she is living today. One of the local representatives of the company was so impressed that upon hearing that another policy-holder in the same city was down with Bright's Disease and a loss was imminent he took our Detroit agent with him and the two were instrumental in putting the second patient on the treatment, and we are now advised that he, too, is recovering.

Losses that are getting ready to mature can and are being stopped all over this country, but the Life Insurance Companies will not realize the full measure of our help to their bank accounts until they take notice and pass the word to their agents.

For Bright's Disease, Fulton's Renal Compound is the one used. For Diabetes, Fulton's Diabetes Compound. It can be had in Greensboro at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Literature mailed free. Address John J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery street, San Francisco, Cal.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many a Greensboro Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

People in this vicinity testify to this.

M. T. Choplin, 505 E. Green street, High Point, N. C., says: "I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in the hope that other persons afflicted with kidney trouble will give them a trial. I suffered for some time from disordered kidneys and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage and unnatural. I was very nervous at times and had other distressing symptoms of kidney complaint. I finally procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and began taking them according to directions. It required but a short time for them to restore my kidneys to their normal condition and greatly improve my health."

TURKISH WOMEN.

They Are Curiously Fastidious In Some of Their Ways.

The habits of the Turkish women of Constantinople are wonderfully fastidious. For instance, when they wash their hands at a tap from which water runs into a marble basin the fair ones will let the water run until a servant shuts it off, inasmuch as to do this themselves would render them "unclean." They cannot open or shut a door, as the handle would be unclean.

One of these fastidious women was not long ago talking to a small niece who had just received a present of a doll from Paris. By and by the child laid the doll in the lady's lap. She was horrified and ordered the child to take it away. As the little girl would not move it and no servant was near and the lady would be defiled by touching a doll that had been brought from abroad, the only resource left her was to jump up and let the doll fall. It broke in pieces.

Another Turkish woman would not open a letter coming by post, but required a servant to break the seal and hold the missive near her that it might be read; also should her handkerchief fall to the ground it was immediately destroyed or given away, so that she might not again use it.—Exchange.

Forced To Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

"I suppose you would like to have a customer with a figure like the Apollo Belvedere."

"No," answered the tailor. "Handsome men aren't always the best pay. I'd rather have one with a figure like Croesus."

Armies In Old Testament Times.

All through ancient history oriental armies had no sentinels, and thus in the Bible King Saul when he was pursuing David slept without any guard, so that David stole up to where the king lay asleep and took the cruse of water at his head with him (I Samuel, xxvi). A striking illustration of this was when Alexander the Great, accompanied by his chief officers, entered the lines of the Persian army the night before the decisive battle of Arbela and found that there was not one of the sleeping host who observed them. We can readily see, therefore, that a panic might occur by a sudden night attack on an army so carelessly guarded and that Abraham's company might easily have taken advantage of this.—Dr. William Hanna Thomson in Designer.

He Knew It.

"Tommy," said the teacher, "you know very well you have no good excuse for staying away from school yesterday."

"I know it, teacher," replied the little fellow, "but it wasn't my fault."

"Are you sure it wasn't?" queried the teacher.

"Yes, ma'am," answered Tommy. "I tried my best to think up a good excuse, but I just couldn't."—Chicago News.

A Gradual Reduction.

An old gentleman accustomed to walk around St. James' park every day was once asked by a friend if he still took his usual walk.

"No, sir," replied the old man; "I cannot do as much now. I cannot get around the park. I only go halfway around and back again."—Housekeeper.

The Start.

"Bromley, I hear you are going to start housekeeping?"

"Yes, Dallinggor."

"What have you got toward it?"

"A wife."—Stray Stories.

More Effective.

Husband—I saw the doctor today. He says I must go away and rest. Wife—Did you show him your tongue? Husband—No, but I told him about yours.

We only see in a lifetime a dozen faces marked with the peace of a contented spirit.—Beecher.

From an elevating point of view the society women who go on the stage succeed about as well as the actresses who go into society.

That Cold Room

on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. That can't be done by the regular method of heating without great trouble and overheating the rest of the house. The only reliable method of heating such a room alone by other means is to use a which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached by a chain and cannot get lost.

An automatic-locking flame spreader prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that it can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental. Has a cool handle.

TEMPTING TABBY.

Ruse That Won a Satisfactory Pose For the Camera.

The repairs on the house were completed and the shavings swept out; also a new coat of paint added dressiness to the outside. What next but a photograph of its new angles? That being considered, the question of moment was how to pose Katusha.

Rolled into a ball every cat looks like every other cat; hence it was Katusha in action that must grace the foreground. Being abominably coddled and fat, action was the last thing that appealed to Katusha. Coaxing and likewise prodding made no effect.

She had been known upon occasions to be stirred by a morsel of delectable food. But fancy an aristocratic feline pictured in the attitude of tearing at a chicken bone! Impossible for Katusha.

There arose an emergency and with it the mistress, who disappeared into the house and brought forth a branch of Japanese paper cherry blossoms. A wave of them before Katusha's eyes was like making some hypnotic pass. She got up, stretched her body, while her nose just reached the pinkish flowers. That was it! They appealed to her aestheticism.

Snap went the camera. It was perfect.

"How"— began the man of the house.

"Just the alluring fragrance of a sliver of chicken secreted in the bough," said herself as Katusha rolled back into a ball.—Kansas City Star.

Recently interviewed, he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by Howard Gardner.

and it is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, sold by druggists, the makers of which feel fully warranted in thus taking the afflicted into their full confidence

The more known about the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the more confidently will invalid women rely upon it to cure their peculiar weaknesses and derangements. There's no secrecy about its make-up—no deceptive inducements held out to the afflicted. It's simply a good, honest, square-deal medicine with no alcohol, or injurious, habit-forming drugs in its composition. Made wholly from roots. It can do no harm in any condition of woman's organism.

Devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past 40 years and more.

Accept no secret nostrum in place of "Favorite Prescription"—a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, with a record of 40 years of cures behind it.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. FOOTBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

Greensboro Eleven to Meet Reidsville Team At Cone Park.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Cone Park the High School eleven will meet the Reidsville football team on the gridiron. If the weather is fine a large number of the lovers of the sport in the city are expected to go out to witness the exhibition.

The local boys have been hard at work for the past week and are getting in shape for the contests this fall. The fact that nearly the entire eleven are new material, and as the rules are new, somewhat handicapped the boys in their practice. But with that perseverance and determination that is characteristic of the local athelties they went to work and will exert every effort to sustain the record established by previous teams composed of High School boys.

The Reidsville boys are said to be somewhat heavier, but the locals are counting on their headwork and fleetness and confidently expect to have the first scalp of the season dangling from their belt tonight. The visitors will arrive on No. 7 this afternoon.

The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon slides.

Cleaning Up Work Halted.

The rain yesterday morning broke into the plans of the health department and no progress was made in ridding the city of the trash and garbage, or rather the remainder of the city that had not been covered. However, the rain settled the dust that for some days had been almost stifling and it did considerably more good than the carrying off the trash could have accomplished. As soon as the rainy spell is over the wagons will complete their work, which will not take more than a day.

Mark Twain as "Attraction."

A girl who was a stranger to Mark Twain once found her way into his Bermuda home with the hope of getting a sight of the author. She came suddenly in contact with him and frankly explained her errand.

"Have you seen the crystal cave yet," he asked, "or the aquarium?"

"No; I came to see you first," she answered.

"Well, you shouldn't have seen me first," he answered. "I run in opposition to the crystal and the aquarium. But they're not shucks to me. I'm lots better. I give them their money's worth. But you should see them. Then you'll appreciate me."

This was said in his most earnest drawl and with only a sparkle of humor in his keen blue eyes.—Chicago Tribune.

The Sure Way

THE SUREST as well as the safest way of accumulating a substantial fund for future use is to open a savings account with this bank. By making small additions from time to time the account will gradually grow and interest at the rate of 4 per cent., compounded four times a year, will add materially to the original deposits. Accounts of one dollar or more are cordially invited.
